The house will certainly satisfy the needs of a family of 4-5 people. A spacious day zone, enriched with beautiful, corner glazing, will delight both the guests and the guests. In this project, a large kitchen with a dining room was separated from the living room by a wall, thanks to which the living room with a fireplace part became a separate, moody room. A functional office with an exit to the terrace is ideally suited as a studio or guest room. The attic has a double bedroom with its own dressing room and bathroom, and two rooms and a second bathroom. A wardrobe was designed next to one of the rooms.

High alkali materials were used in the construction:

- ceramic block Wienerberger Porotherm
- window carpentry VEKA Profil Salamanderb
- Table roof tile on the ThyssenKrupp tab
- plot fenced panel fence height 2m graphite color
