This unique residential development in El Campanario (New Golden Mile) blends modern architecture with Andalusian character, offering comfortable apartments designed to maximize natural light and a sense of space.

The intimate, low-rise development will house 86 one-, two-, and three-bedroom apartments, including ground-floor apartments with private gardens, comfortable upper-floor apartments with large terraces, and penthouses with spacious solariums and sea or mountain views. Thoughtful interior layouts and extensive glazing create a seamless transition between the living area and the terrace, allowing you to fully enjoy the Costa del Sol's climate.

Interiors feature a warm, Mediterranean style that harmoniously combines modern minimalism with the cozy character of Andalusian homes. Carefully selected materials and finishes emphasize the quality, durability, and everyday functionality of the space.

Extensive, resort-style common areas have been designed so residents can enjoy daily relaxation without leaving the development. Guests will have access to outdoor pools surrounded by lush greenery and relaxation areas, a clubhouse with an indoor pool, a fully equipped gym, spa, sauna, co-working space, and a games room, as well as children's playgrounds. A fenced area, controlled access, parking spaces, and storage units will ensure a sense of comfort and security every day.
